ADM Manager Takes Over IAOM Treasury

Overland Park, Kansas – Joseph Woodard, general manager for Archer Daniels Midland (ADM) in Arkansas City, Kan., was unanimously elected 2009-2010 treasurer of the International Association of Operative Millers (IAOM) at the association's 113th annual conference and expo on April 30 in Grand Rapids, Mich. As treasurer, Woodard will be responsible for overseeing preparations for the association's 2010 and 2011 conferences in Las Vegas, Nevada, and San Antonio, Texas, respectively. He is also in line to serve as the association's president from 2011-2012.

Woodard has been an active member of IAOM since 1980. He was director of IAOM's Wheat State District from 2003-2009; and served as that district's chairman in 1999-2000. While serving as IAOM treasurer, Woodard will also be vice president of the International Milling Education Foundation (IMEF), a philanthropic partner of IAOM that funds a variety of educational programs related to the grain milling industry. Woodard has been an IMEF trustee since it was founded in 2003.

Woodard is a native of Arkansas City, where he joined the milling division of ADM in 1979. Based in Arkansas City, Woodard has held several positions including miller, mill superintendent, plant superintendent, plant manager and general manager. He currently serves as general manager for ADM's two operations in Arkansas City. Woodard was also recently elected to his second term as president of USD 470's school board. He has been a reserve police officer for 15 years; has served on the boards of the local water district, committee for business and industry, and the Arkalala Committee.

IAOM has been the leading provider of educational resources and training for the grain milling industry since its foundation in 1896. Through conferences, workshops, correspondence courses, short courses and publications, IAOM has played an integral role in the continued education and training of the professionals in this industry for 113 years. IAOM is an individual-based member organization with a 1,500-strong membership representing over 70 countries worldwide. With 15 districts around the world, IAOM provides an international forum for networking; the exchange of ideas, technical and educational opportunities; and the discovery of new products and services.
